LIBRARY TO HOST VEGETABLE GARDEN PLANNING CLASS

High Point, N.C. (Jan. 3, 2020) – The High Point Public Library will host a class called Planning the Three-Season Vegetable Garden on Wednesday, Jan. 22, 2020, from 6-7 p.m. at the library in the Morgan Community Room located at 901 North Main St. High Point, N.C.

This class, presented by the NC Extension Services Master Gardener Volunteers, is part of the Spring Series of Indoor classes offered at the library. It focuses on the importance of good planning and succession planting when taking advantage of the Piedmont region's 10-month growing season.

Attendees will learn why January is the perfect time to start thinking about this year's garden and simple ways to get the most vegetables out of your personal planting space. This event is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Mark Taylor.
